Media & Public Profile

WLANSW's opinion is often sought by the media, particularly those specialising in the legal sector. The WLANSW website is a major tool in establishing our public profile. On the website is our online "Find a Woman Lawyer" database that all members who are practising lawyers have the benefit of being listed on. The website and our 'Her Say' e-news broadcasts provide updates, information and invitations for a variety of events hosted by WLANSW and organisations that we support. WLANSW has been proactive in liaising with Government and promoting law reform, particularly in relation to issues affecting women and children, and our input is often sought by legislative and Government bodies.

Australian Women Lawyers (AWL)

Formed in 1997, AWL provides a collective national voice, a vehicle for communication and the sharing of ideas amongst the Associations. AWL is funded by each State and Territory Women Lawyers Association. Ten percent of WLANSW membership fees collected is paid directly to AWL.
